NATURE CRIB SHEETS

50 crib sheets for clueless parents

By François Lasserre, Candice Hayat, David Melbeck, Jampur Fraize, Thomas Blanchard, Peggy Frey, Anne Debroise, Frédéric Michaud, Nathalie Tordjiman, Marianne Maury Kaufmann

Why haven't birds got teeth? Do animals have bogeys too? Why is snow white? Does the female praying mantis really eat the male? Why are leaves green?

Children ask so many questions! Answering them can be a challenge for parents, grandparents, teachers and those working with little ones. The «Nature crib sheets» provide replies and stimulate children's interest in the natural world.

Each volume contains around 50 failsafe answers on a nature topic close to home. These crib sheets answer those tricky questions and offer a wealth of quirky facts, incredible detail and even some unexpected asides for adult readers.

THE INCREDIBLES

15 incredible facts about the fabulous powers of animals and plants

By David Melbeck and Aurélien Cantou

If one is asking about pounds or the waterholes, you'll be thinking about a still stretch of water, rather calm and boring. BUT, in fact, incredible things are happening here. Should you be a fan of science-fiction, detective stories, drama, or show-biz, glitters and red carpets... discover the fabulous powers and the vital destinies of bugs and plants in our water surfaces.

You are invited to the largest scenes of wild life: love, crimes, exploits, metamorphosis.

- 15 questions : you are invited to attend 15 presentations that will reveal incredible stuff.
- 15 actions : become the incredible actor of the life and environment close to your home!

The whole editorial project is composed of a book and a poster (open 84 x 56 cm, folded 21 x 28 cm). The book can be published on its own or with the poster. All made by Editions Salamandre top specialists of nature! Trust them...

The Behaviour of European Birds

By Armando Gariboldi and Andrea Ambrogio

A beautifully illustrated
reference work

Unique in giving a European panorama, this book took three years to research. A study of the behaviours of all the birds in Europe, it comprises:

- 164 chapters covering 427 species: ducks,
swans, geese, birds of prey, waders, gulls,
seagulls, passerines...

- 1800 original illustrations, mostly made in the field or based on video sequences for rare species or particular behaviours.

The Behaviour of European Birds is the most comprehensive illustrated treatise on bird ethology to date. A monumental compendium, it is an essential companion to the identification guides. Once the bird has been identified, this work helps us understand and contextualise its behaviour by entering into its life. Each chapter details the behaviours by species or group of related species.
